

BEACH AND PARK ATTRACT CROWDS

Honolulu Folk Flock In Throngs To Surf and Attractions of Kapiolani Zoo

Honolulu woke up early Sunday morning, turned over, rubbed its eyes and after a moment's reflection decided the day was too beautiful to be lost in slumber. So Honolulu jumped out of bed, washed its face and dressed up for another holiday. Immediately after breakfast Honolulu, Mrs. Honolulu and all the Honolulu's sailed forth for another day of healthful Hawaiian pleasure.

Normally yesterday should have been a rest day. On Saturday the city and visitors from other islands gave them selves up to a day of gaiety. The annual regatta, which is known the world over since it was inaugurated by King Kalanikou, was celebrated in a manner known only to Hawaiians.

Many Go To Waikiki
The entire day was devoted to the splendid aquatic sport and far into the night the victors were toasted and the defeats forgotten in good fellowship. When the last dance was danced at the Regatta Ball in the Alexander Young Hotel, it was thought that the city would spend Sunday "rest up" and prepare for the business of today.

On the contrary Honolulu tacitly declared another holiday. The day might be called Waikiki Beach Day or Kapiolani Day, for those delightful spots can be said to be the center of the holiday. The day might be called Kapiolani-Waikiki Day.

So early in the day the Honolulu family went forth for either Kapiolani or Waikiki. They swarmed on cars, they dashed by in filled automobiles; some walked, but one and all they arrived at either place happy and determined to fill the day with the good things to be found within the municipal limits of the city.

From early in the morning until late in the afternoon the beaches were filled with bathers. Waikiki was particularly a magnet of attraction. And why should it not be? Where else in the world is there such delightful surf bathing? With its ever smiling and bubbling waters, changing in color constantly, with the huge Pacific plunging against the reef and rippling in smiling gold sand of the beach. Few places on earth where the ocean crests so majestically in the spirit of man to rest or to liberate himself from the cares of life in the soothing embrace of its warm wave arms.

That Honolulu appreciates this wonder of nature was shown yesterday when hundreds of its tired folk took advantage of the health-giving pleasure of Waikiki.

Whole Family There
Yes, all the Honolulu family was there. They stayed all day. Some of them did not go into the water, but they watched others at the sport. Scores lay around the sand and forgot the European war, the strike in New York, the trouble in Mexico, the price of sugar and the new fall styles in women's bonnets. The air was all crowded. Many picnic parties took advantage of the day and enjoyed the comforts of the great out-of-doors.

At Kapiolani Park, Daisy was the chief attraction. The big-eared African panythera was in all her glory. For the children were there. And if there is anything that Daisy likes more than anything else it is the children. Hundreds of them were in the park, slight fighting for a ride on the gentle animal's back. Most of them were accompanied, for Daisy is a well mannered lady and would suffer anything rather than have one of the little ones neglected. Daisy is a fixed figure in the life of Honolulu. As the years go on she will become more and more a pet. Nothing is too good for Daisy for she will make a place for herself in the hearts of our children and the hearts of our grandchildren.

Other Attractions Patronized
The other attractions of the park were equally well patronized. The lagoons, the birds, the monkeys and the little black bear whose chief business in life seems to be to play with himself and whoever will take with her.

And so a perfect day was ended. When night fell the tired but contented Honolulu family returned to its home. It was satisfied with life. Yes, life is a good thing after all despite the dyspeptic cynics. It is worth going forward and taking with joy what is offered. Yes, it is abundantly worth while, if only for the little ones, the little flowers of humanity that some day must bear the burdens of the world. If you don't believe so just ask Mr. Honolulu today. Any Mr. Honolulu will answer in the affirmative.

OAHU COUNTRY CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Oahu Country Club has a new president in the person of E. L. Spaulding elected at a meeting yesterday afternoon at the University Club. Other officers for the ensuing year are Dr. A. C. Wall, first vice president; A. F. Judd, second vice president; G. H. Buttolph, secretary; Fred Waterhouse, treasurer; H. H. Walker, chairman of the greens committee; and Fred Smith, chairman of the house committee. The directors are H. H. Walker, A. C. Wall and A. F. C. Judd.

CHRONIC DIARRHOEA

Are you subject to attacks of diarrhoea? Keep absolutely quiet for a few days. Rest in bed if possible, be careful of your diet and take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This medicine has cured cases of chronic diarrhoea that physicians have failed on, and it will cure you. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

HEALANIS SCORE VICTORY IN REGATTA

DETAILS OF THE RACES AND ROWERS
Event	First	Second	Third	Fourth
1. Senior six-oared barge	Healani	Myrtle	Hilo	Honolulu
2. Ladies six-oared barge	Healani	Myrtle	Hilo	Honolulu
3. Four-oared steamers	Healani	Myrtle	Hilo	Honolulu
4. Freshman six-oared barge	Healani	Myrtle	Hilo	Honolulu
5. Twelve-oared naval cutter	Healani	Myrtle	Hilo	Honolulu
6. Senior scull	Healani	Myrtle	Hilo	Honolulu
7. Junior six-oared barge	Healani	Myrtle	Hilo	Honolulu
8. Senior pair-oared	Healani	Myrtle	Hilo	Honolulu
9. Sailing race, ship's boats	Healani	Myrtle	Hilo	Honolulu
10. Junior scull	Healani	Myrtle	Hilo	Honolulu
11. Junior pair-oared	Healani	Myrtle	Hilo	Honolulu
12. Point	Healani	Myrtle	Hilo	Honolulu

Total number of points won by each team: (first counting 5; second, 3, and third, 1).
Healani, 35; Myrtle, 31; Honolulu, 3; Hilo, 1.

HILO VISITORS PUT UP A GOOD RACE

Alert Pullers Come Home Ahead of Geier Crew in the Man-of-War Cutter Race

REGATTA SCORE BY POINTS

Healani Yacht & Boat Club	35
Myrtle Boat Club	31
Honolulu Yacht & Boat Club	3
Hilo Yacht Club	1

With the passing of the Twentieth Annual Regatta into history the Healani Yacht and Boat Club Saturday, became the winners of the main events for the fourth consecutive time, and by scoring thirty-five points won the cup this year. The Blue and White was carried to victory in the three major events, the senior, junior and freshman six-oared barge races, while every crew was strong at the finish and seemed capable of standing another half mile of the grind.

The freshmen stood out as the particular stars of the day, by not only winning their race by a good twenty-five lengths, but beating the senior's time by 2-1/2 seconds.

The Myrtle boat club, while scoring but two firsts, were strong with second and third, and came close to the winners with 31 points.

Honolulu Yacht and Boat Club were third with three points and Hilo last with one.

Every crew in each race pulled its strongest and fought gamely every inch of the course, but it must be considered the race went to the best crews.

Immense Crowd
Crowds of people lined the docks as early as seven o'clock yesterday morning to witness the annual events. It was a gala crowd, fully 15,000 people thronging the course on each side of the harbor, packing water craft, filling the Myrtle and Healani boathouses, and crowding into every conceivable space, that they might view the events.

Probably no harbor in the world has ever witnessed so many and varied types of water craft as were seen on Honolulu Harbor yesterday. Leviathan of the deep, coasting steamers, dories, skiffs, canoes, yachts, tug and sampans were all filled with a gay and enthusiastic holiday crowd. One family went so far as to rig up a sort of boat from a table top and was towed about by a launch during the day. The little bronze con divers lived in the water during the entire program and exhibited less fatigue at the finish than many of those who had chairs in the shade.

The Men Behind the Joy
Whistles and sirens vied with each other in announcing the winners; flags and pennants floated from masts and flagpoles, and gay crowds were everywhere, the harbor front being alive with color. Refreshments and light drinks were served at all times at many places, and the guests at the clubs enjoyed dances between races.

The Regatta committee had worked hard for this event, and the spectators have every reason to thank E. J. Hardesty, William Lyle and Carl von Aspe, the committee in charge of arrangements, as well as their assistants, G. E. Mayne, Thomas O'Brien and Charles K. Stillman.

Barges Line Up

The Honolulu crew was first to pull by the judges boat for the starting point in the first race, followed shortly by the Myrtle crew. Some little delay was experienced before the Healani crew, who had some trouble with their boat, appeared, and the crowd grew nervous and excited. At nine-fifty Hilo pulled by the starting boat. Every man of the four crews looked to be in the pink of condition and determination to win was marked on every face. The crews pulled into their positions: Healani, 1; Myrtle, 2; Hilo, 3; and Honolulu, 4. At ten minutes past ten Leslie Scott fired the starting gun of the feature event, and the senior barges leaped away to a pretty start.

Hilo Gets Poor Start
But like a second pistol shot, the bar of Mel Nichols, rowing number three for Hilo, cracked and Scott fired a second shot announcing a false start. Hilo returned to the Healani boat house for a new one, while the other crews laid by the judges' boat and exchanged good sportsmanlike remarks. This slight mishap only added tension to the situation and the immense crowd that lined both sides of the harbor remained still. On the second lineup the four barges got away to a perfect start, how to bow. Hilo who had been touted as quick starters made good the contention, and with quick, strong strokes went into the lead, with Myrtle second, Healani third, and Honolulu fourth. Opposite the Myrtle boat house the barges encountered rough water and the spray could be seen flying from the bows. At this point the Myrtle six, under Coach Crozier's urging, increased their stroke and took the lead. Hilo was putting up a gallant fight at this point, rowing about a thirty-five stroke and it looked as though they would make a bid for the lead.

Healani Gain On Turn

Healani on the outside course, increased their speed and came second at the turn. Myrtle was leading at the turn, but Healani pulled strong and gained a boat length on the turn, and when the Blue and White settled down the straight away they held a lead of over a boat length. As the barges passed the Myrtle boat house the cheers of the followers of the Red and White encouraged their oarsmen and Myrtle gained their stroke from that point and held a lead, crossing the finish line, a little over a boat length ahead of the Myrtles. The Hilo and Honolulu sixes made a strong bid for the honors but could not maintain the speed. Both the Healani and Myrtle crews finished strong.

It was a pretty race from start to finish, but the superior team work of the Healani crew was manifested in the last half mile.

On the first start the Honolulu stroke's seat became unfurnished and the crew called back. On the second start, No. 1 of the Healani broke an oar and the crowd again received the second pistol. The three crews were nervous and had difficulty in lining up for the third start. On the pistol, Crozier sent his men away fast at a 40 stroke and took the lead, with Healani and Honolulu in place. At the end of three hundred yards the Honolulu dropped out on account of a defective seat. Healani was first at the turn in 5:35 and the Myrtles in 6:00. Kruger held his men well in line and for the third time sent a Healani crew across the line, a winner, by a good ten lengths. The men looked strong and fit for another half mile of the grind. This made straight wins for the Healani in the three barge events.

Myrtle Wins Senior Pair
Starting at a line in front of the Myrtle boathouse, the senior pair-oared boats got away to an excellent start. Duke and Carter rowed an even stroke all the way over the three-quarters of a mile, and finished by a scant half-length ahead of Oas and Anderson, also rowing Myrtle colors.

Six oarboats got away in the sailing race for ship's boats at the drop of Starter Scott's hat. Hermes No. 1 got the lead by being in the wind, with the Geier No. 1 a close second. Many of the boats had to tack to get in the wind, and lost considerable on the start. While the sailing boats were tacking outside the harbor in an effort to make the return trip down the harbor the junior sculls were run off. The race among the five men was a neat one, and not until Kruger increased his stroke in the last hundred yards did one of them have an advantage. Kruger won from Crozier by a length. The other sculls were bunched. Crozier came up fast in the first fifty yards and moved forward by half a length.

Junior Pair Sculling
The junior pair-oared finished a thrill from the start. The three teams rowed bow to bow over half the course. Cunha and Hollinger, shortened their stroke in the last 100 yards, and were from Rose and Chittenden by only half a length.

The last race on the card, but no the least by any means, was the Pa'ani, six-oared barge for boys. The entrance was not left the crowd and they cheered the youngsters on through the entire race. The Healani got the better of the argument at the start and held the lead, finishing a good three lengths ahead of the Myrtle six. Honolulu came third. As the crowd was breaking up the sailing boats drifted in against the wind. The Geier III, by good tacks back and forth across the harbor, finished first. The Hermes II got a whiff of wind in front of the Healani boat house and sailed home in second place. The Geier I took third.

Derby Member Gets Ducking
Evidently, Shaffer, a member of the Derby Club, got terribly excited over this event, for he fell into the harbor in all his gay attire, and had to be fished out by his comrades. So far as reported, this was the only casualty of the day.

The third race, the four-oared steamer boat, started from the spar buoy and was a nip and tuck affair for the first half-mile. Then the brawn of the Healani's oarsmen began to tell and they pulled slowly away from the field. The Myrtle six was second and Honolulu third. The Healani crew was held back by a man to overcome the lead, by wild wavings of his hat, but it was impossible and the big tub of the Honolulu floating drydock won in 6:55.

Freshman Boat Senior Time
A real feature of the day was the freshmen six-oared barge race. The three entries got away even but Kruger gave his men a thirty-five stroke and they rapidly pulled away from the field. Myrtle was second and Honolulu third. The Healani crew was held back by a man to overcome the lead, by wild wavings of his hat, but it was impossible and the big tub of the Honolulu floating drydock won in 6:55.

America vs. Germany
The navy men of the U. S. S. Alert and S. M. S. Geier, after two years of waiting, had their opportunity to cross oars and see in a long standing argument. The big awkward cutters got away together and with short, strong pulls the Alerts managed to get their bulky craft into the lead. It was a long and tedious grind of two miles. All the way on the return both cutters were accompanied by launches with the editors shouting words of encouragement. The Alerts finished about five lengths ahead of the German cutter. Duke Kahanamoku took the lead in the senior sculls and was an easy winner, finishing ahead of Fuller by seven lengths. Parker was disqualified for crossing, and though he finished third, his finish did not count. Melin failed to finish between the flags and was not given a place.

Junior Boat To Start
Great difficulty was experienced in starting the junior six-oared barge

On the first start the Honolulu stroke's seat became unfurnished and the crew called back. On the second start, No. 1 of the Healani broke an oar and the crowd again received the second pistol. The three crews were nervous and had difficulty in lining up for the third start. On the pistol, Crozier sent his men away fast at a 40 stroke and took the lead, with Healani and Honolulu in place. At the end of three hundred yards the Honolulu dropped out on account of a defective seat. Healani was first at the turn in 5:35 and the Myrtles in 6:00. Kruger held his men well in line and for the third time sent a Healani crew across the line, a winner, by a good ten lengths. The men looked strong and fit for another half mile of the grind. This made straight wins for the Healani in the three barge events.

Myrtle Wins Senior Pair
Starting at a line in front of the Myrtle boathouse, the senior pair-oared boats got away to an excellent start. Duke and Carter rowed an even stroke all the way over the three-quarters of a mile, and finished by a scant half-length ahead of Oas and Anderson, also rowing Myrtle colors.

Six oarboats got away in the sailing race for ship's boats at the drop of Starter Scott's hat. Hermes No. 1 got the lead by being in the wind, with the Geier No. 1 a close second. Many of the boats had to tack to get in the wind, and lost considerable on the start. While the sailing boats were tacking outside the harbor in an effort to make the return trip down the harbor the junior sculls were run off. The race among the five men was a neat one, and not until Kruger increased his stroke in the last hundred yards did one of them have an advantage. Kruger won from Crozier by a length. The other sculls were bunched. Crozier came up fast in the first fifty yards and moved forward by half a length.

Junior Pair Sculling
The junior pair-oared finished a thrill from the start. The three teams rowed bow to bow over half the course. Cunha and Hollinger, shortened their stroke in the last 100 yards, and were from Rose and Chittenden by only half a length.

The last race on the card, but no the least by any means, was the Pa'ani, six-oared barge for boys. The entrance was not left the crowd and they cheered the youngsters on through the entire race. The Healani got the better of the argument at the start and held the lead, finishing a good three lengths ahead of the Myrtle six. Honolulu came third. As the crowd was breaking up the sailing boats drifted in against the wind. The Geier III, by good tacks back and forth across the harbor, finished first. The Hermes II got a whiff of wind in front of the Healani boat house and sailed home in second place. The Geier I took third.

Derby Member Gets Ducking
Evidently, Shaffer, a member of the Derby Club, got terribly excited over this event, for he fell into the harbor in all his gay attire, and had to be fished out by his comrades. So far as reported, this was the only casualty of the day.

The third race, the four-oared steamer boat, started from the spar buoy and was a nip and tuck affair for the first half-mile. Then the brawn of the Healani's oarsmen began to tell and they pulled slowly away from the field. The Myrtle six was second and Honolulu third. The Healani crew was held back by a man to overcome the lead, by wild wavings of his hat, but it was impossible and the big tub of the Honolulu floating drydock won in 6:55.

Freshman Boat Senior Time
A real feature of the day was the freshmen six-oared barge race. The three entries got away even but Kruger gave his men a thirty-five stroke and they rapidly pulled away from the field. Myrtle was second and Honolulu third. The Healani crew was held back by a man to overcome the lead, by wild wavings of his hat, but it was impossible and the big tub of the Honolulu floating drydock won in 6:55.

America vs. Germany
The navy men of the U. S. S. Alert and S. M. S. Geier, after two years of waiting, had their opportunity to cross oars and see in a long standing argument. The big awkward cutters got away together and with short, strong pulls the Alerts managed to get their bulky craft into the lead. It was a long and tedious grind of two miles. All the way on the return both cutters were accompanied by launches with the editors shouting words of encouragement. The Alerts finished about five lengths ahead of the German cutter. Duke Kahanamoku took the lead in the senior sculls and was an easy winner, finishing ahead of Fuller by seven lengths. Parker was disqualified for crossing, and though he finished third, his finish did not count. Melin failed to finish between the flags and was not given a place.

Junior Boat To Start
Great difficulty was experienced in starting the junior six-oared barge

HAWAIIAN ENGINEERS TO ELECT OFFICERS

At the meeting Thursday night of the Hawaiian Engineering Association nominations were made of officers for the ensuing year. The election will be held October 11. The election is as follows:

For President—Carl Andrews and H. W. Marvin.
For Vice President—Benton Hind and E. H. Hevey.
For Secretary—George A. McElwain and Frank O. Boyer.
For Treasurer—Irwin Spaulding.

Plans for the entertainment of the visiting mill engineers at the time of their annual meeting were discussed and a committee was appointed to arrange a program.

RUMORED CHANGES ON HAWAII PLANTATIONS

According to a report in the Hilo Tribune, it is rumored that Frank Anderson, head bookkeeper at Onomes plantation, has been named as manager of Paauhau plantation. It also is rumored that James Campbell, now manager of Paauhau, will become manager of Pihala in place of the late William G. Ogg. Campbell was formerly at Olo-walu and was also head luns at Pihala.

JOHNSTON DEFEATS DAVIS IN TRI-STATE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
CINCINNATI, September 17.—William M. Johnston, Pacific coast champion, defeated F. Davis here today in the final round of the singles of the tri-state tournament. The score was 6-3, 6-3, 5-7, 6-0.

SPORTS

REGATTA THIRD OF CENTURY OLD

Thirty-four Years Ago Honolulu Laid Foundation For Annual Holiday

Thirty-four years ago Saturday, on the sixteenth of this month, King Kalanikou's birthday, the first Regatta took place in Honolulu harbor. Much of the success of the first Regatta was due to the King, who was an enthusiastic patron of aquatic sports. This event was the forerunner of the annual Regatta, the twentieth celebration of which was held on the sixteenth, just past. The program in 1882 consisted of eighteen events and, judging from the list, some very excellent sport must have been enjoyed in the early days. The Healani and Myrtle boat clubs did not exist at that time, so the events were of a free-for-all nature. Many of the sportmen whose names appeared on the first program are still alive today and able to relate the interesting happenings when they were in their prime.

No Quails About Taking Money
There seems to have been no consciousness regarding professionalism in those days. The first prize in the yacht race was the King's cup, an additional $100, with a second purse of $50. Sloops entered in this race were as follows: Sarah, Restless, Kahikiani, Pauline and Kahoimoua, the latter being a twenty-ton boat. The others were all smaller craft, ranging from three to seven tons. Tom E. Wall captained the Restless, W. F. Williams the Kahikiani, W. L. Wilson, a Pauline and John F. Colburn the Kahoimoua. Then there was a race for five-oared whaleboats, for a public purse of $70, in which E. W. Purvis entered Miahala, Sam Nowlin the Kekua and D. W. Kamanuwa the Sea Breeze.

There was a prize of $100 hung up for the two big races, one a four-oared and the other a six-oared. Two other events to help in those days were the six-paddle canoe race and a barge race. Nothing less than $100 was ever offered for the winners of these events.

All Ages in Swim
The swimming races were features of the day. Fifteen dollars was offered for first in a free-for-all race. It will be interesting to note some of the entries and their ages: Kapulu, twenty-nine years; Kapulu, fifty-three years; Nahalehale, forty-nine years; Opu, twenty-one years, and J. L. Opu, twenty-nine years. It is evident that the old fellows were unafraid to try expeditions with the youngsters in the olden days. At noon everybody took an hour off and made a great feast. The races were resumed again at one o'clock. In the second part of the program were second-class yacht races, single scull races, six-oared, gig races, sailing canoes, and diving contests. In the sailing canoe race there were ten entries and a prize of ten dollars offered for the winner.

One of the most novel features of the oldtime Regatta was a tug-of-war in canoes and a swimming tug-of-war, a cash prize being offered for each event.

Young at Seventy
In a swimming and diving contest a youngster by the name of Kahou, seventy-four years of age, took part. His competitor was Pelehu, who was only fifty-four, and should have been barred on account of his youth.

The aggregate of the prize money totaled $1,280, and there were two handsome cups offered besides. The executive committee in charge of the Regatta at that time was H. B. Macfarlane, Capt. N. A. Tripp, F. Brown, C. H. Clark, D. Kahanu, Capt. A. Fuller, C. T. Gullick, W. F. Wood and J. A. Cummins.

J. L. Kawanui and Frank Godfrey were secretaries of the Regatta. The judges were Capt. A. Fuller and A. N. Tripp. The starters were F. L. Clarke and J. W. Robertson.

Francis Durack Overcomes Two Thieves In Night

World's Champion Mermaid Knocks Out Two Men Who Attempt To Rob Her Father

It seems that Fanny Durack, the world's champion mermaid is able to defend her life and property against intruders, as well as her swimming title. News is brought by Frank A. Smith, who arrived in Honolulu from Sydney on the Makura, of an incident which occurred in Sydney recently to uphold this statement.

One night H. Durack, Fanny Durack's father, who operates a large hotel in Sydney, was counting up the day's receipts, preparatory to making his departure for the night. Two thieves, who evidently knew of the money which he had on hand rushed in from the street and knocking Mr. Durack down, started away with the bag of gold. Miss Durack hearing the confusion, appeared on the scene, and taking the situation in at a glance proceeded to overcome the robbers. With a well directed blow of her right fist she knocked down the first thief, and turning upon the other, delivered a straight shoulder blow that sent him reeling to the floor. She then revived her father, called for the police, and had the two men arrested.

Boxing has become one of the training stunts of the fair swimmers all over the country. Miss Durack has put much time in with light six ounce gloves, which is claimed to be an excellent developer of the arms and shoulders. Her recent experience proves that her boxing training comes in handy in other lines, outside her swimming.

Miss Frances Cowell, the noted coast swimmer, is a devotee of the boxing game, taking it up originally because of the weakness of her arms.

Mr. Smith is acting business manager for Miss Daisy Jerome, a celebrated vaudeville star. They are in Honolulu enroute to New York, and Miss Jerome will probably be seen in one of her skits before she leaves the Islands.

ATHLETICS GIVE TIGERS SCORE

Philadelphia Makes Detroit Go Ten Innings To Win; Boston Defeats Sox

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
CHICAGO, September 18.—Philadelphia came very near upsetting the Tigers from the lead yesterday, when they made the Detroiters go to ten innings to win. The cellar teams have been the disturbing element throughout the season, and it is the tail-enders whom the leaders fear the most of all. Boston had little trouble with the White Sox and took the big end of a 9-2 game, which showed the Sox further down the line.

A pitchers' battle between St. Louis and Washington went to the Browns. Cleveland and New York played to a big score with the former getting the long end.

There was a prize of $100 hung up for the two big races, one a four-oared and the other a six-oared. Two other events to help in those days were the six-paddle canoe race and a barge race. Nothing less than $100 was ever offered for the winners of these events.

All Ages in Swim
The swimming races were features of the day. Fifteen dollars was offered for first in a free-for-all race. It will be interesting to note some of the entries and their ages: Kapulu, twenty-nine years; Kapulu, fifty-three years; Nahalehale, forty-nine years; Opu, twenty-one years, and J. L. Opu, twenty-nine years. It is evident that the old fellows were unafraid to try expeditions with the youngsters in the olden days. At noon everybody took an hour off and made a great feast. The races were resumed again at one o'clock. In the second part of the program were second-class yacht races, single scull races, six-oared, gig races, sailing canoes, and diving contests. In the sailing canoe race there were ten entries and a prize of ten dollars offered for the winner.

One of the most novel features of the oldtime Regatta was a tug-of-war in canoes and a swimming tug-of-war, a cash prize being offered for each event.

Young at Seventy
In a swimming and diving contest a youngster by the name of Kahou, seventy-four years of age, took part. His competitor was Pelehu, who was only fifty-four, and should have been barred on account of his youth.

The aggregate of the prize money totaled $1,280, and there were two handsome cups offered besides. The executive committee in charge of the Regatta at that time was H. B. Macfarlane, Capt. N. A. Tripp, F. Brown, C. H. Clark, D. Kahanu, Capt. A. Fuller, C. T. Gullick, W. F. Wood and J. A. Cummins.

J. L. Kawanui and Frank Godfrey were secretaries of the Regatta. The judges were Capt. A. Fuller and A. N. Tripp. The starters were F. L. Clarke and J. W. Robertson.

Francis Durack Overcomes Two Thieves In Night
World's Champion Mermaid Knocks Out Two Men Who Attempt To Rob Her Father

It seems that Fanny Durack, the world's champion mermaid is able to defend her life and property against intruders, as well as her swimming title. News is brought by Frank A. Smith, who arrived in Honolulu from Sydney on the Makura, of an incident which occurred in Sydney recently to uphold this statement.

One night H. Durack, Fanny Durack's father, who operates a large hotel in Sydney, was counting up the day's receipts, preparatory to making his departure for the night. Two thieves, who evidently knew of the money which he had on hand rushed in from the street and knocking Mr. Durack down, started away with the bag of gold. Miss Durack hearing the confusion, appeared on the scene, and taking the situation in at a glance proceeded to overcome the robbers. With a well directed blow of her right fist she knocked down the first thief, and turning upon the other, delivered a straight shoulder blow that sent him reeling to the floor. She then revived her father, called for the police, and had the two men arrested.

Boxing has become one of the training stunts of the fair swimmers all over the country. Miss Durack has put much time in with light six ounce gloves, which is claimed to be an excellent developer of the arms and shoulders. Her recent experience proves that her boxing training comes in handy in other lines, outside her swimming.

Miss Frances Cowell, the noted coast swimmer, is a devotee of the boxing game, taking it up originally because of the weakness of her arms.

Mr. Smith is acting business manager for Miss Daisy Jerome, a celebrated vaudeville star. They are in Honolulu enroute to New York, and Miss Jerome will probably be seen in one of her skits before she leaves the Islands.

AMERICAN LEAD CHANGED TWENTY-FOUR TIMES

Every team but the Athletics has led in the American league procession since the season began. Perusal of the standing of clubs since the barrier arose in April shows that the leadership shifted 24 times from April 13th to September 16th. Here are the changes.

April 14—Boston, St. Louis, Washington.
April 15—Boston.
April 19—New York.
April 20—Boston.
April 21—Boston and New York.
April 22—New York.
April 24—Boston.
April 26—Boston and Detroit.
May 2—Washington.
May 4—Cleveland.
May 27—Washington.
May 31—Washington and Cleveland.
June 1—Cleveland.
June 2—Washington.
June 3—Cleveland.
June 21—Cleveland and Detroit.
June 22—Cleveland.
June 23—New York.
July 12—Cleveland.
July 13—New York.
July 31—Boston.
August 3—Chicago.
August 9—Boston.
September 16—Detroit.

PRICES GOOD FOR KONA COFFEE CROP

This year's Kona coffee crop is going to average pretty good in quantity, Robert Wallace